

PUBLIC EVENT PHOTO RELEASE and DATA PROTECTION

Please be aware that Cummins is conducting a public event in this area. Photos and/or videotaping of parts of the event may take place, including those of specific individuals and the crowd.

By entering this area, you consent to your likeness (photo, voice, etc.) being collected, used, and stored by Cummins in relation to coverage of the event. This personal data may be used within Cummins in areas such as on the company intranet or in brochures or other media, as well as externally such as on our social media pages. It may also be shared with or accessible to business partners assisting with the event (but only for purposes relating to Cummins and not separate uses), as well as other individuals or organizations attending the event.

By choosing to attend the event or being present in the event area, you understand and agree that your likeness may be captured in connection with the event photos and/or videotaping. In addition, you release Cummins, its affiliates, and all agents and assigns from any liability whatsoever of any nature, in relation to including you in any photos, tapes or descriptions of the event. You also specifically waive any and all rights to any compensation or royalties based on the use of your likeness in connection with attending this event.

If you do not consent to have your likeness included in the event, we kindly request that you do not attend the event or enter the area in which the event is taking place.

For additional questions about your data privacy rights or to obtain a more detailed data protection notice pertaining to Cummins events, please contact the Global Data Privacy Team at dataprivacy@cummins.com. Thank you.

